A Taste for Saving

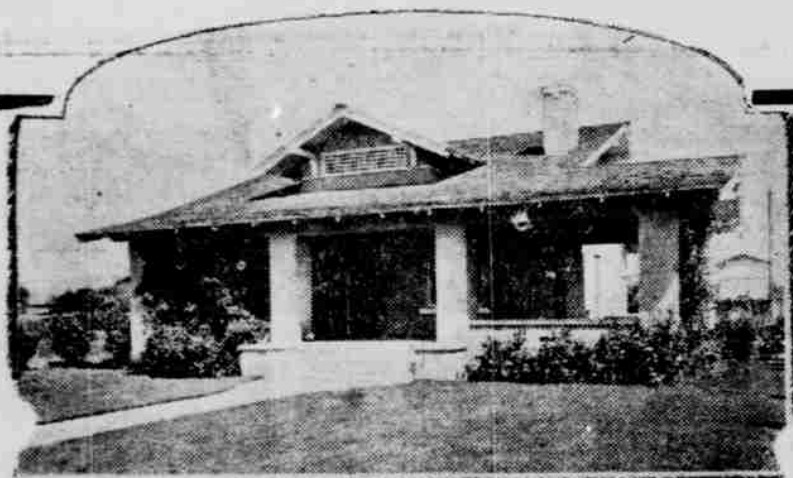

When your attention is arrested until your inner consciousness grasps the fact that a saving of one dollar per week for five years will create, at 4% compound interest, only a fund of $287.21, you just naturally conclude it is not worth the effort.

It is simply human nature for the average person to act in this way, but the money saver is not an average person. His power to concentrate—to force results from himself—lifts him above the average person. He has decided to win a permanent success, and has overcome the tendency to drift along the line of least resistance.

He gets the taste for saving, and it breeds in him both the desire and the ability to create permanent resources, in other words, to become a money maker, and the dollar a week is a trifling portion of the real result.

A PHOENIX HOME COMFORTABLY
HEATED WITH GAS FURNACE

The Owner of This House Says

"We could heat our house any time, day or night, last winter in fifteen minutes. The comfort and convenience is worth many times the cost."

At the turn of a key, the coldest rooms will be made warm and comfortable.

The health of your wife, children and yourself demands an evenly heated, well ventilated home in winter, especially so in Phoenix, where the changes in temperature from morning to night are so marked. The Gas Furnace sends a steady flow of fresh, warm air into your rooms, and maintains an even, warm temperature. The temperature adjustment is on the register and is regulated without leaving the room. There is neither dirt nor drudgery; the fuel is delivered right into the furnace—conveniences which are worth many times the cost.

BUSY WINTER LIKELY IN CITY

Already There is Large Influx of Winter Residents and Good Demand for Furnished and Unfurnished Houses About Town

According to all reliable statistics available the season of 1915-16 is going to bring with it the largest influx of winter residents Phoenix has had for the past ten years. An inquiry directed among the realty dealers, the traffic departments of the railroads in this section, and the various transfer lines of the city, reveals the fact that for the past thirty days there has been a steady flow of travel into the city and its environs—a steady incoming of a well-to-do class of people who expect to make their home here for the coming winter, and many of them for even a longer period.

The railroad officials are authority for the statement that the travel toward Phoenix is at the present time larger than it has been for many months past. Charles J. McElroy, city sales manager for the Greene & Griffin Co., real estate dealers, stated to a Republican reporter yesterday that during the five days of the present week this firm has rented fifteen houses in the city to families who expect to make their home in Phoenix for the winter at least. He also stated that during the week preceding this one there were twenty-five inquiries for city rental property made through this agency.

Mr. McElroy said that while the properties which had so far been rented were mostly of the class which would rent at figures ranging from $25 to $150, there was still quite a brisk demand for houses which would rent for a more moderate price. A large number of prominent eastern families are making arrangements to spend the winter in the city, and consequently it is quite likely that within the next few weeks there will be some lively bidding for the possession of the city's most desirable rental properties.

PREDICTS EARLY COMING OF CHRIST

Elder Knox Says Are Aged Men and Women Who Will Live to See Return of Christ

"Though they now are white-headed men and women, some who saw the supernatural star shower of November 13, 1832 will still be living upon the earth when Christ returns to the earth in his glory accompanied by all his faithful angels to gather those who are faithful to him," said Elder Philip L. Knox in an interesting discourse in the big tent at the Seventh-day Adventist camp-ground at North Tenth and Pierce streets last night. This service was predicted by a stereopticon lecture conducted by Elder Fred Owen, during which many beautiful colored slides were shown.

"Two questions were asked of Jesus by the disciples just before the Savior's death, as he sat upon the Mount of Olives," said Elder Knox last night. "One question was as to when Jerusalem would be destroyed, the other as to when Jesus would return at the end of the world come. He gave the signs that would show the destruction of Jerusalem to be imminent, and then, looking down the future ages saw a great time of trouble for the Christians which came in the Dark Ages. That period expired in 1798, but Jesus said that unless the time was shortened no flesh should be saved. In 1776 the last Christian was put to death. Mark 13:24 shows us that in those days, after the tribulation, the sun would be darkened, and the moon should not give her light. This supernatural darkening of the sun and moon, which astronomers admit their inability to explain, occurred at the time specified in the prophecy, May 19, 1780, being after the persecution ceased, but before the time period expired in 1798.

"Jesus said the next great sign of His coming would be the falling of the stars and added: 'And then shall they see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.' Now learn a parable of the fig tree. When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near; so ye, in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is high time, even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done." Then, seeing the unbeliever which would exist in the minds of men today, he said, "Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away." Mark 12: 26-31. "The people who saw the stars fall were the first people who could be said to have seen all these things fulfilled, hence Jesus could not have been talking to the generation represented by the disciples. Deuteronomy 1 and 2 show us that a generation has not passed away until all the people in it are dead. The words of Christ show us some who saw the great star shower of November 13, 1832 still will be living on the earth when Christ comes. That momentous event is right upon us. It behooves every person to make his peace with God without delay."

A revival service was held at the camp ground yesterday morning by Elder E. W. Farnsworth of Oakland, vice president of the Pacific Union Conference. Some took their stand as Christians. Elder C. D. M. Williams preached yesterday afternoon. The tent was crowded at all the services yesterday, including the Sabbath school, held at 9:45 yesterday morning. Besides those camped on the grounds, many drove in from the country districts.

STUDEBAKERS ON STAGE LINE

Four Studebaker sixes were sold, and two delivered yesterday to the Union Auto Stage line, operating between Phoenix and Globe. This marks the first deal in what will ultimately sum up as a big motor scoop, the line having decided to operate Studebakers exclusively.

The deal was completed between Messrs. Jones and Simons of the stage line, and John Huff, manager of the Harmon Motor company, agents for the Studebaker car in Maricopa, Pinal, Yavapai and Gila counties.

Deliveries will be made on the other cars of the lot as fast as they can be received here. The two already turned over are to be put in commission at once.

Huff congratulates himself warmly over the deal. It is evident that it takes real cars to operate successfully on such a road as that between here and Globe, especially when service such as stage lines demand is imposed.

Roosevelt District

A negro preacher paid this tribute to a white minister who occupied the black brother's pulpit one Sunday: "His noted divine is one of the greatest men of de age. He knows de unknowable, he kin do de undoable, an' he kin onscrew de onscrutable."

This sentiment well expresses the feeling of the Roosevelt district toward Rev. Logie. Everyone deeply regrets that he will not be able to preach at Neighborhood House this winter.

Rev. Broadhead delivered a sermon on October 3, and made many friends among the people. It is hoped that he will come again. Mr. Hedgepeth will not be able to be present on October 10, because he is to take part in a Rally day program at his own church. Rev. Sims of the South Methodist church has promised to come out on that day.

The home department of the Sunday school gave a "calico party" on Friday. There was a program and ice cream was served.

Don't miss "Jeff's Minstrels," Friday, October 15, at eight o'clock, admission, thirty-five cents.

The Neighborhood club had a large and interesting meeting on Wednesday. Mrs. Winslow had charge of the program. The next meeting will be a twenty-five cent party to pay for the drop curtain on the stage. Mrs. Archer, Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. Walker are getting up the party. Each lady is requested to bring twenty-five cents, and her thimble, needle and thread, in order to help make the curtains for the windows. The gas machine has been installed. This furnishes the lights for the auditorium and supplies gas for a three-burner stove in the kitchen, in Neighborhood House.

IT WASN'T HIS SPEECH

"That second speaker was quite extraordinary."

"I thought his speech was about the dullest I ever heard."

"His speech didn't amount to anything, but he failed, when he got up, to say that the townmaster's introductory remarks reminded him of a story."

EDWARD SIDNEY CRAIG

Edward Sidney Craig was born March 20, 1889 at Edison, Nebraska. With his parents he moved to Texas, where his early youth was spent. He was always strong and active, fond of sport and outdoor life, vigorous of mind as well as of body, an eager reader from childhood, fond of school and ambitious to attain the highest in education. He first attended a private school. Later he enrolled in the public schools of Texas, where he made remarkable progress. At the age of sixteen he had passed the required examination and received a teachers' certificate. From this time on his activities were centered in his studies—to characterize the trend of his ambitions, one has fitly said, "His

The Misses Mary and Elizabeth Garland.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Garland, of Washington, are to be much made of in capital society this coming season. Miss Mary is to be one of the season's debutantes and Miss Elizabeth is to become the bride of Mr. George Wharton Edwards, of Bethlehem, Pa., on November 24. The Garlands are one of Washington's oldest families and live in a handsome old house in the Georgetown section of the capital city.

and High School flags were flown at half mast and large numbers of faculty and students from both institutions attended the funeral services on Friday. The Student staff attended in a body. Interment was made in the Double Butte cemetery. The following persons acted as pallbearers: James Blakesley, A. J. Cosner, H. B. Griffin, Jr., Kenneth MacLennan and C. C. Cash. The sermon by the Rev. Wilbur Fiske paid the highest tribute to the life and character of Mr. Craig, and spoke fitting words of consolation to the mother and sister who are left. To them the Student extends its fullest and deepest sympathy. In Edward Craig we have lost a strong and efficient co-worker and a loyal friend, one who has left a noble record of earnest, sincere and true manhood.
